

Conservation Is Question Up to the Land Owners

Land owners of Randall county are considering the possibility of forming a conservation district in Randall county in order to come under the provisions of the new law. The legislature has appropriated $5,000,000 to carry on this work.

Randall and Potter counties are the only counties in the Panhandle which do not have conservation districts.

Lewis B. Dawkins, assistant planning engineer of the State Planning Conservation Board, was here Monday.

He asked that land owners of Randall county confer with land owners in Swisher, Deaf Smith or other adjoining counties as to the advantages of having a conservation district.

Under the provisions of the law, 50 land owners must petition for an election to form a conservation district. When the election is held, it must pass by two-thirds majority. The county would be divided into five districts, with a supervisor in each district who would be elected for a term of five years.

The county could not increase taxes in order to pay the expenses of the conservation districts. All this expense would be met by the state.

The Farm Bureau throughout the state has been very active in forming conservation districts.

Until petitions are circulated and the signatures of 50 land owners is secured, no action can be taken on forming a conservation district, states Mr. Dawkins.

South American Talked Tuesday at Rotary Lunch

Claudio Escalante of Peru, senior in West Texas State, talked Tuesday on conditions in South America. He was introduced by Frank Morgan, chairman of the International Service committee.

Escalante came to West Texas in seeking a college in a small town, which represented American ideals. He has been here for four years and is highly pleased with his experience here. He knew no English when he arrived, but speaks good English now.

There are about 2,000 Peruvian students in the United States. They came to seek better understanding of American ideals. Before the war students went to Europe, as they found Europeans more nearly akin to their native land.

During the war America did much for South America, but today interest is more centered on Europe.

Peru is about twice the size of Texas, and has a population about equal to Texas. There are no industries in the country.

The father of the young student is a merchant, and came to America in 1914 to study mercantile practices. Young Escalante came to America to study along similar lines, but has decided to go to the University of Texas next year to study mechanical engineering.

The student referred to "revolutions" in South America as fiestas. The difference in climate, economy and character of the people makes for unrest which leads to revolutions.

While the people are poor, they are not interested in Communism. Most of the natives are of Spanish and Indian descent; are members of the Catholic church, which opposes Communism.

Escalante says that his experiences in America have completely changed his concept toward America. He has written friends urging them to come here for study.

Visitors were: R. C. Busted, Wm. Stokes, R. D. Wheelock, all of Canyon; Wendell Cain of White Deer; H. A. Cox of Panhandle; J. B. Hardeman of Plainview; R. A. Shelby, C. W. Rogers, John E. Hill, L. Two Local Men Killed During Rain Storm North of Amarillo Friday; Funerals Held Here on Monday

Two young men from Canyon were killed instantly during a rainstorm on the highway north of Amarillo. Their car left the pavement and plunged into an arroyo about 10 feet from the culvert which they had missed.

The men were Ralph Landam Bragge and Gerhard Ernest Rogge, both sons of farmers who have lived east of Canyon for many years.

A witness to the tragedy stated that the car driven by Rogge had passed him during the downpour of rain. He saw the car leave the pavement a short distance after it had successfully passed him, and plunged into the draw. Both men were dead by the time he reached the car. It is presumed the necks of both men were broken by the impact.

Young Rogge was a veteran of World War II. He was 33 years of age. The family lived eight miles east of Canyon. Survivors are the mother, Mrs. Ida Rogge; one brother, E. R. Rogge of Canyon; one sister, Mrs. Allen Roberts of Toledo, Oregon.

The body laid in state at the Griggs-Warren Funeral Home until Monday noon when it was taken to the Lutheran Church in Amarillo for services, which were conducted by Rev. Martin J. Hartenberger. Interment was in the Lutheran Cemetery east of Canyon.

The following were pall bearers: Herbert Gerdson, Fred Gerdson, Alvin Kuhlman, H. J. Meyer, William Schuette, Paul Fluegel.

Ralph Bragg had reached his 35th birthday just four days before his death. He had been engaged in the carpenter work for several years.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at four o'clock at the Baptist Church, conducted by Rev. Hubert Thomson.

Survivors are the father, O. D. Bragg; four brothers, Fred Bragg of Canyon, Floyd, Oscar and Howard Bragg of Redondo Beach, Calif.; one sister, Mrs. E. E. Underdown of Topanico, Calif.

Active pall bearers were: C. H. Humphries, L. E. Thomas, W. H. Hardaway, E. L. Hardaway, Ray Hardaway, Herman Kuhlman; honorary pall bearers were Frank Wright, J. J. Wright, J. C. McClelland, Glenn McGahey, Claude Moore.

Rain and Hail Fell In County During the Week

Canyon received .96 of an inch of moisture on Monday and Tuesday. Harvest will be again delayed because of this moisture.

A storm swept across the county Friday, doing much damage to the wheat in various sections of the county. Hail is reported in several sections.

The Hugg farm which suffered such heavy loss during the tornado escaped with slight hail damage in that storm. But hail practically wiped out the wheat on the farm Friday night. No rain fell in Canyon Friday.

Hail is reported in other sections of the county on Monday night.

During May the rain measured 5.60 inches in Canyon. So far Canyon has received 13.63 inches of moisture.

Due to the spotted rain map, many sections of the county have received much more moisture than has fallen in Canyon during the recent rains.

Harvest will not get underway here for about a week more is the most hopeful prediction.

Allan Shivers Is Entertained at Reception Friday

Lt. Governor Allan Shivers was the honored guest Friday afternoon at a reception held at the Museum building of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society.

Mr. Shivers had arrived from Austin Friday morning by plane, accompanied by Senator Grady Hazlewood. He was met by a delegation from Amarillo, Hereford and Canyon and taken to Hereford for the Rotary club luncheon. Mr. Shivers spoke at the luncheon of the club.

Dr. Pat M. Neff of Waco, who was commencement speaker at West Texas State, accompanied the Canyon delegates and made a short talk.

Before leaving Austin, Mr. Shivers had appointed Senator Hazlewood as a member of the free conference committee on the educational appropriation bill. The committee started to work on the bill Monday.

Canyon citizens going to Hereford for the Rotary luncheon were Dr. James P. Cornette, Dr. Walter Juniper, President R. A. Nebbett of the Canyon Club, Dr. Lee Johnson, Dr. L. F. Sheffy, Dr. L. B. Roberts, Boone McClure, Frank Morgan and Clarence Thompson.

More than 50 Canyon citizens met Mr. Shivers at the Museum in the short reception which was given in his honor.

Directed by Boone McClure, Mr. Shivers made a rapid inspection of the Museum. He marveled at the large amount of valuable material which has been assembled and hoped that it would be possible for the building to be completed in the near future.

Before leaving for Amarillo under the direction of Mayor Gene Kline, Herb Budke, president of the Chamber of Commerce, S. B. Whittenburg and Ray Daniel, Mr. Shivers was taken to the Palo Duro State Park where he was shown a part of this great work of nature.

Mr. Shivers delivered the commencement address for the Amarillo College Friday night, and left by plane Saturday morning for South Texas. Senator Hazlewood remained over until Monday to look after his farm north of Canyon on the highway.

Who Will Serve on First Educational Board of State?

Governor Jester has signed the Gilmer-Aikin Bill which sets up the new educational program for Texas. It requires that 21 members shall be elected to the state board, one from each congressional district. The election will be held this fall for a member from this district.

Application of candidates must be filed with the secretary of state. It is presumed that the election will be held about October 15, depending upon the date that the legislature adjourns.

Citizens of the Panhandle are interested in the new board since it will name the superintendent of public instruction, rather than have this official elected by the people every two years.

Treasure Hunt in Palo Duro Park Is Drawing Largest Crowd in History Of Park; Many More Valuable Coins

Large crowds are enjoying the scenic beauties of the Palo Duro State Park every day, according to reports being made from the management. More than 4,000 persons entered the Park last week, which was the second largest paid attendance in the history of the Park.

Prize winning coins are being found daily by the crowds which are on the Treasure Hunt on the floor of the canyon.

The weather at the Palo Duro over the week end was just opposite to that which was encountered upon the opening days of the Treasure Hunt, when rain fell in torrents. The weather has been ideal all week.

Plans are being completed for shooting a motion picture in the Palo Duro. "Thunder in the Dust" will be the title of the picture, which will be done in technicolor because of the beauty of the Palo Duro.

Officials of the motion picture firm have been here since Saturday making plans for the settings. The stars will arrive from Hollywood as soon as all details have been completed.

About 700 lucky coins are yet to be found in the Park. Valuable prizes are being awarded daily to those who find the gold coins which end in "seven."

The big prizes are yet to be awarded. One of these is another trip to Havana; one trip to Rio; a 1949 Chevrolet car; two registered quarter horses; and a whole flock of valuable merchandise prizes which are being offered by local business firms.

In commenting on the prize list, one visitor remarked that the business firms of Canyon certainly are to be complimented by the almost 100% support of the Treasure Hunt.

Randall county citizens are urged to continue hunting for the lucky coins, and to watch for announcements regarding the days on which the special prizes will be awarded.

Degrees Given To 193 Grads West Texas State

Dr. Pat M. Neff, former Governor of Texas and president emeritus of Baylor University, spoke to the graduating class of West Texas State College Thursday morning. The auditorium was overflowing with friends of the graduates and citizens of the area who came to hear the distinguished statesman and educator.

Speaking for only 22 minutes, Dr. Neff laid aside oratorical flourishes and spoke from his heart to the large class.

"Youth is worth a million dollars," stated the speaker. He advised the graduates to go out and make the most of life.

The Panhandle was highly praised because of the pure Anglo Saxon blood which coursed in the veins of the 193 graduates of the college.

"Things of everlasting value are the things which this institution will build," stated the speaker. He paid tribute to the pioneers who had built so well in the past, and laid the foundation for those things which this generation enjoys.

In closing, Mr. Neff said that the greatest thing he had ever done for Texas was to bring Dr. James P. Cornette to Texas. He predicted great advancement for West Texas State under the presidency of Dr. Cornette.

Degrees were granted by Dr. Cornette to nine masters of arts; 51 bachelors of business administration; seven bachelors of arts; 126 bachelors of science. Assistant Dean A. Kirk Knott presented the graduates of the college, and Dr. James Russell the masters of arts.

Music was furnished for the program by the college orchestra, directed by Lewis Stoelzing.

EDITORIAL COMMENTS

Natural Gas Will Run Out
For the People of Texas

One of these days the people of Texas will wake up without natural gas. It will be piped to eastern cities for the comforts and convenience of that section, while Texans will go back to burning coal, or even cow chips.

The reason: It seems that in order to secure a permit to build a pipe line for natural gas, the promoters must secure approval of the Federal Power Commission. In its application, gas is dedicated for transmission through the proposed pipe line. The promoters secure from natural gas wells the necessary priority in order to protect the investment.

All of this means that each and every big pipe line which goes out of Texas has already secured priority on the gas supply of Texas.

Those who live in Texas have no priority. When the gas fields begin to run low, the supply for local consumption is cut off, in order to secure the priority supply which has been allotted to the big pipe lines.

Representative W. R. Chambers of Brownwood is alarmed. He has a bill pending in the legislature trying to put a stop to the exporting of natural gas until local consumption is adequately protected. In other words, Mr. Chambers is more interested in the future warmth of the people of Texas, and security of Texas industry than he is in protecting the investments of promoters who are seeking to deplete the gas fields of Texas for the profit they may get from their investment.

His program is sound. Mr. Chambers calls upon the people of Texas to become alive to the dangers which confront them in the future.

People Will Say What Salary
Should Be Paid Legislators

In September the people of Texas will be called upon to decide whether or not they will increase the pay of their legislators from $10 per day for 120 days, and $5 per day for each additional day; and whether this pay will be $3600 per year.

There is no question about $10 per day being wholly inadequate at this time. Some voters may argue that the boost is too much, considering the type of men who seek the office.

The greatest weakness in the amendment is that no limit is placed on the number of days that the legislature may be in session. If passed with no restrictions, the law makers may follow the pattern of Congress and stay in session most of the time. That would not be conducive to good government. It will be up to the voters to decide.

Another weakness in the amendment is that no safeguard is provided, restricting the members from serving big corporation while members of the legislature.

In conversation with a certain member of the legislature recently we asked him how he was faring on the $10 per day. His reply was typical: "Why should I worry, I am employed by _____, and get my pay regardless of the legislature."

We have noted that this particular member has been voting against progress in Texas; against appropriations; against tax measures; against anything which might affect his employers.

He is human, and you might expect him to vote just that way.

Eisler a Good Riddance

We have no worries about Eisler. Uncle Sam was getting ready to spend a lot of money trying to send him to the penitentiary. He got away, to be sure, but in Europe he will find a lot of things different from the ideal which he had been preaching.

Good riddance, if we know anything about the case.

In the meanwhile, Uncle Sam has $25,000 cash for appearance bond which was put up by Eisler. The refugee is attempting to get it back.

America claims to be a Christian nation. As a matter of fact the most profane man in the nation would not deny this assertion, and is proud that this America is a Christian nation. He likes to boast of the opportunities which he has missed. But until the nation gets more than 50% of its population in the churches on Sunday and active in the church to which they are obligated, we are merely playing at the job of Christianity.

It seems from reports that a lot of Canyon folks are peeved about this tipping business. In too many places, especially eating places, the help works free of charge, relying on tips. Those who do not like this business are getting up in arms, so to speak. And they have a right to complain.

Don't complain about the high temperature! Remember how we were all griping about the near zero weather in January. No better weather could be ordered for the ripening wheat crop.

Until we find out that red faced, healthy babies are more important than white face calves, we are not going to do much toward improving the condition of humanity.

A fellow newspaper man observes that writing an editorial without a concrete idea in mind is a man-sized job. To which we reply that ideas, week after week, are hard, very hard things to dig up.

The reason you can't believe all you read in the newspapers is just because the newspapers have to depend on folk just like you for most of their information. Get it?

Work hard, be stingy and hang on to your money—your children will have the time of their lives flinging it over the country faster than you made it.

Sporadic interest in the welfare of others is commendable, but systematic work for social improvement will do more for the unfortunate in Canyon.

We were told, not so long ago, that people are tired of reading about conditions in other countries. We just can't believe our people are that thoughtless.

If the entire population of Canyon would trade at home for just one month, we would all be surprised at the difference in business it would make.

Giving until it hurts sometimes applies to the recipient, too.

A government, administered for the good of all citizens, should recognize no privileged class.

Storage Problems Push Down
The Price of Wheat at Harvest

As usual, the gamblers are taking advantage of the producers by running down the price of wheat at harvest time. The situation this year is more critical than in past years.

The wheat crop will be one of the largest that the Southwest has ever produced.

Storage space is either at a premium, or is being held up for the purpose of manipulating the price of wheat.

Farmers who have not built storage for themselves may be faced with the unhappy predicament of being forced to sell at a price far below the actual value of the wheat. They will be at the mercy of the operators.

The railroads will not be able to handle the big wheat crop, and will accept only such wheat as there is immediate storage available. Immediate storage is necessary in order to keep the cars moving. The operators will have sufficient storage in order to buy all of the wheat that they need.

It is proposed that a thousand ships in the mothball fleet be hauled to the wheat ports to receive the wheat. Uncle Sam should get a wiggle on himself before the farmers are fleeced by the operators who know the score and have the producers at their mercy.

A Little Lesson to Readers

Here is a little request: About every week some good friend rushes to The Canyon News office all out of breath with the request that we publish an editorial on such and such a subject. They usually come in about 15 minutes before press time. We are grateful for all such requests, as it expresses confidence in the ability of The News to influence the people of the community. But here is the catch. The editorial page is written on Thursday, and printed on Friday before the paper comes out on the following Wednesday.

We simply must maintain that kind of a schedule in order to have a 16-page paper. This being the case, you must make your request for editorial comments in advance of the day of publication.

This Is a Very Small World

The world has become so small that we must learn to live with our neighbors in all parts of the world. Every part of the world is just a few hours away from any spot in America. Our neighbors are peoples of all races, religions, and political faiths.

Because America is the wealthiest nation in the world is no reason for us to be snooty about our superiority. Opportunities bring added responsibilities for service to those who are less fortunate than we are.

Wealth Doesn't Mean Happiness

America has only 7% of the population of the world, yet we hold 50% of the wealth of the world.

Jay Gould, who rose from a 50 cent per day laborer to the wealthiest man of his age, said on his death bed that all he had gotten from life was a suit of clothes and three meals per day.

His wealth had not brought him happiness. He failed to see the opportunities which his wealth had laid at his door step.

Cut the Rank Weed Crop!

Cut the weeds! Cut the weeds!! Cut the weeds!!! Hay fever time is here, and the weeds are growing rapidly. The city mowing machine will cut your weeds at a nominal cost. Private mowing machines are available.

Let's cut the weeds before polio strikes and we are forced to take drastic measures in cleaning up Canyon.

A speaker in Canyon last week, one who had seen the wreck of Europe as the result of the war, believed there was no immediate danger of World War III. Winston Churchill came out this week with the same declaration. Both speakers are firm in their conviction that not being prepared for war is certain to invite war. All of which means that past, present and future wars will take about all the money that you are able to make.

Judging from the manner in which Americans like to jump on our public officials, it is a wonder, a very, very great wonder that we have as good a government as we really have. Good men hesitate to accept public office because of the criticism to which they are subjected.

Many a farmer who knows all about how to properly feed his livestock knows little and cares less about the proper diet for his family.

Any merchant who thinks that advertising is a magic force to make people buy what they do not want is wasting his money, if he advertises.

It is to be hoped that the next generation will not be so busy making money that parents will forget to associate with their growing children.

People who believe in education without religion are as foolish as those who believe in religion without education. The two go hand-in-hand.

Going to church will not necessarily do a man any good, but, on the other hand, the practice has never yet hurt anyone, to our knowledge.

Trade in Canyon: It pays me, you and everybody here.

Advertise your business in any way you want to, but advertise it.

There are selfish people in every community who seem to get along.

A lot of experts are talking about things they don't know much about.

It is not necessary for a good politician to be a liar, but many of them are.

So long as your money holds out, you will have plenty of "friends" to help you spend it.

The people who take their work seriously are the ones who usually have the permanent jobs.

Children would probably be much better if they didn't have the example of adults to follow.

President Truman is beginning to be a little concerned about the size of the "influence business" that is reported to be growing in Washington by leaps and bounds. With Government adding millions to the amount it spends, industries find that it pays to get in right with the right people if they are to be on hand when the dollars are passed out.

Date for the resignation of James Forrestal as Defense Secretary was moved up by a considerable period after an original date had been agreed upon by the White House. Fact that he was being fired is credited by the late Secretary's associates with having caused him to be much upset after a long service for the Government.

Nation's resources dwindling, conservation meeting hears.

U. S. Industry has invested $75 billion in construction and equipment since the war. It has on hand a near record $65 billion in working capital while individuals have liquid savings of $200 billion. Together, these can supply the ingredients of prosperity new products, new industries, and demand.

Sir Stafford Cripps is beginning to feel that foreign customers of Britain are delaying purchases of British goods and are delaying settlement of accounts in an effort to force Britain to devalue the pound sterling. Pressures from abroad intensify the Cripps determination to try to avoid any immediate devaluation.

Paul Hoffman, Administrator of Marshall Plan aid, is arguing in private sessions with members of Congress that, if dollars are lopped off his aid plan, then the net effect will be only to cause the Commodity Credit Corp. to put out more dollars to support prices of wheat and cotton and it won't result in a net saving in the budget. Then the commodities will pile up in surplus instead of moving into use.

Rumors are reviving that there will be a summer meeting in Europe between Russia's Stalin and the heads of U. S., Britain and France to talk peace. Mr. Truman, however, remains cool to the idea of traveling to Europe again to talk to Mr. Stalin.

VOICE OF AMERICA

Officials believe that a little less than half of the Voice of America programs beamed to countries behind the Iron Curtain are penetrating the jamming wall set up by the Soviet radio stations. A test of one day's broadcast showed about 23 per cent penetrated the jamming curtain in the clear, another 22 per cent was reported as penetrating the jamming tactics in an intelligible form, while the remaining 44 per cent of the programs were estimated to have been completely obliterated.

GOVERNMENT CONTROLS

The general business recession is likely to result in lessened government controls. Consumer credit controls are expected to be allowed to expire, while bank reserves requirements, after June 30, are likely to get a lower ceiling. Export controls are being dropped rapidly except for scarce and strategic items.

Dean Acheson, Secretary of State, is optimistic in private about Russia's shift from an attitude of belligerence to one of apparent willingness to compromise. U. S. is coming to view that a basis for doing business with Russia may develop gradually, now that talks are resumed.

George Marshall, former Secretary of State, is being credited with success for his policy of getting tough with Russia. He gambled that Russia, if pushed to a test, would pull back short of shooting, as it has done.

Young Bill's no child prodigy. But he does have a pretty bright father.

Back in 1942, when the Payroll Savings Plan of buying U.S. Bonds began, Bill's father signed up fast. He didn't make a very impressive salary, but he was bound that his son was going to have a chance to go to college.

And (we said he was bright) he realized right away that the Payroll Savings Plan offered the best possible opportunity for saving up the boy's tuition. The safest, easiest way of saving in the world, with $10 paid back for every $7.50 invested.

So, since 1942 those "college education" Bonds have been growing, right along with Bill. He's seventeen now, and he writes home from college that he thinks Yale, and his father, are pretty wonderful.

Ten-Year-Old Youngest 'Ham' In Radio World

PHILADELPHIA. — Jane Bieberman is as tiny as an average 10-year-old. But when it comes to radio, Jane is a real grown-up—and the youngest radio operator in the country.

Jane doesn't like to take too much credit for her accomplishments. After all, her daddy is a math teacher and one of the best known amateur radio operators in the Philadelphia area. He taught her all she knows.

But according to her father, Jesse Bieberman of suburban Cynwyd, it's a different story.

Wanted to Learn
"Jane wanted to learn to be a ham," he said. "She's a bright youngster and likes everything. She's full of pep. She likes to read, likes her Girl Scouts and her piano, and she likes school."

Tiny Jane, eldest of three sisters, took an active interest in radio when she was 6 years old. She wanted to know how to copy the code as it came, dot-dashing through her daddy's receiver.

So, the lessons began. When her father left for the army, she had learned to copy five words a minute.

The radio training fell off. When daddy came back there was more important things than radio to talk about at first.

Last spring, Jane decided she wanted to take up her radio studies again. She and her father went to work. To pass the examination for an amateur operator's license given by the federal communications commission, she had to copy 13 words a minute and answer many technical questions.

Passed Examination
Jane and her father went to the customs house and Jane took her examination.

"She was very confident," said Herbert Lipsom, the FCC man who gave her the test. "If you didn't look at her and see how small she was, you'd swear she was a grown-up."

"I asked her if she was nervous and I told her our testing machine that sends out code on ticker tape would probably make her nervous. 'Oh, no,' she said. 'My father has one just like it. I used to practice on it.'"

"Her father went out and she took the test. She filled out her application all by herself, turned in the test and said she hoped it turned out satisfactory. The entire exam took about two hours and she went through it like a veteran operator."

"The only thing that seemed to disturb her was her math. She said her father had given her special training and she was concerned about whether she'd know the answers to the stock questions."

Six weeks later, Jane received her "B" amateur radio license. That made her eligible to transmit and receive certain frequencies.

Maryland Community Famed As Chicken-Raising Center

SALISBURY, MD. — If the Delmarva peninsula, that fertile strip between the Chesapeake bay and the Atlantic ocean, had its own flag, it probably would display a haughty rooster rampant over crossed drumsticks.

Chickens are to Delmarva what wheat is to Kansas. The peninsula's broiler industry produces about one-third of the nation's supply.

Raising broiler chickens is one of Maryland's leading businesses. On the peninsula itself it ranks tops, to the golden tune of about $80,000,000 annually.

Yet it has remained to a large extent a people's industry. The current huge output of about nine million broilers a year hasn't overshadowed the importance of a backyard operation.

Relatively few of the broiler growers depend on chickens alone for their livelihood. It's largely an important sideline to farming, but physicians like Dr. R. M. Knox of Salisbury, druggists, real estate men, dentists, bankers and other professional men get into the act. Knox, for instance, has a 15,000 bird flock.

Famed Indian Landmark Gets New Niche at River Falls

HOLCOMBE, WIS. — The Holcombe Indian, an eight-foot tall wooden figure that has been a familiar sight to river men since 1876, will continue his vigil from a special niche in the hydroelectric dam being constructed here.

The figure was carved by a former sailor, Luke Lyons, from a carefully selected white pine log cut by Jene Juvette near here 73 years ago. It was originally placed on the old Holcombe dam and was known to generations of lumberjacks who drove logs down the Chippewa river.

A flood about 1880 swept the Holcombe Indian down to Jim Falls before it was recovered and replaced. When the dam was abandoned the figure was removed to the Holcombe town hall and later to an enclosure on the river bank.

In 1950 the weathered and historic figure will be placed in a glass enclosed niche in the new hydroelectric plant.

Language Professor Renounces English In Present System

COLUMBUS, OHIO. — A University of Cincinnati language professor renounced the teaching of grammar here in addressing the modern language section of the Ohio college association.

Dr. Chesley M. Hutchings, associate professor of romance languages in the UC college of liberal arts, told his colleagues:

"I hereby renounce grammar and all its works. Not 100 per cent, but at least substantially."

"And in favor of what? Of the development of that feeling for the language which will enable the student to express himself fluently in the foreign tongue and read and write it without having to translate or in any way refer to the English."

Dr. Hutchings spoke on "recent tendencies in modern language theory and practice," which he subtitled "recantation of an ex-grammarian."

"I used to be, as most of us were, adherent to the old system of grammar drill and translation," Dr. Hutchings said. "It was the work we did at the University of Cincinnati with the GIs in their language and area training that converted me."

"We used the foreign language all the time. No conversation in English was permitted. We had debates, dramatized situations, divided the classes into groups for further conversational practice. And the results were astounding."

"All over the country, as a result of similar experiences, our teachers became converted to the oral approach," he continued. "All recent tendencies in modern language teaching have been in one direction, to the oral approach, to the teaching of conversation and comprehension rather than grammar and translation."

Dr. Hutchings explained that the task in elementary foreign language teaching is to make the student so familiar with the basic words of the language that no translation is necessary.

"After a few weeks a student should be able to handle mentally whole sentences without translation."

Auto Dealer Provides Baby-Sitters for Buyers

FOREST HILLS, N. Y. — Eugene Dunn, a Long Island auto dealer, often found his efforts to demonstrate his cars blocked by the prospects inability to obtain a baby-sitter.

So Dunn started his own baby-sitting agency.

He rounded up a carefully screened group of Jamaica girls, had them heavily bonded as an extra precaution, and they sat while papa and mama went for a leisurely trial ride with their minds free of worry.

"During the first month," Dunn said, "we closed at least eight deals directly creditable to our baby-sitting service."

Americans in Japan Said Going in for Native Sport

TOKYO. — From one end of Japan to the other, Americans are going native in sports. Soldiers turn up as sumo and archery champions, women employees as court dancers and judo experts. And they're beating the Japanese at these century old sports and arts.

Air force Lt. Orville W. Elmore is sumo champion of Hokkaido, Japan's northern island. Orville, a wiry 5 foot 10 inch man weighing 167 pounds, won his ornate woven gold and straw belt by throwing 295 pound Chinoyama (Man Mountain), a 6 foot, 5 inch.

Judo, the more scientific form of wrestling and self-protection, has during the last two years, 560 have practiced at world judo headquarters in Tokyo. Others have joined judo clubs at army and air force installations. Eighty-two Americans have gained the first degree black belt and one has won the fifth. Even the first, the lowest of the degrees, is a mark of distinction.

One of the better American women judoists is Miss Ruth B. Gardner of Chicago. Her instructor is a Charlie Chan type of fellow with a long, thin gray beard.

Sgt. James W. Curtis of the 5th air force in Nagoya, and Lt. Ben H. Hazar of Los Angeles, one of Gen. MacArthur's intelligence officers, are both studying Japanese fencing. They have acquired cumbersome old Japanese fencing costumes.

Mother Hands Over Son In Probe of Gotham Crime

CHICAGO. — A mother turned her conscience stricken son over to police, saying:

"I don't want any kids going wrong in my family."

As a result, police detained two other young men for questioning about four robberies.

Mrs. Margaret Finn told police that her son, Edward, 17, got $9 as his share of a $30 Saturday night taxicab holdup and decided "it was not worth it."

She said Edward's conscience bothered him and he told her about it. She took him, still carrying his toy size pistol, to the police station. Police later detained Donald Kline, 20, and Eugene Collins, 18.

"PACKS THE SOIL WITH POWER!"

NOW . . . a new nitrogen from a new plant to make fertilizing easy and profitable! The Rowland Company's new Plainview NITROW plant, shown above, is the answer to this area's nitrogen fertilizer shortage. For the soil's basic nitrogen needs, liquid NITROW contains 25% nitrogen. It is manufactured by combining 83% Anhydrous Ammonia with water, by the process shown above, and is being distributed to irrigation area dealers in 50 gallon steel drums. The price of NITROW is 45c per gallon, plus a drum deposit.

The Flow of NITROW down your rows is easy to check, for it gives irrigation water a milky color, and gives off an ammonia odor. You see where your fertilizer is being distributed when you channel NITROW liquid nitrogen fertilizer into your rows. YOU CAN SMELL IT! YOU CAN SEE IT!

The Rowland Company's NITROW is the equal of the best in increasing yield and quality of cotton, maize, wheat, truck and other crops. From a few drums used on maize last season by a West Texas farmer, yield was so multiplied that 8 rows filled a harvest hopper which took 14 rows to fill without the help of liquid nitrogen. Near Las Cruces last year, cotton that ordinarily made a 2 bale-per-acre stand, made another one-fourth bale when strengthened with nitrogen in the NITROW form. Call or visit us for NITROW today!

Louis Johnson, Secretary of Defense, is finding the House of Representatives cool to the idea of giving him the power he wants to dominate the Army, Navy and Air Force. Mr. Johnson apparently is to get less authority than the late James Forrestal could have had to "unify" the services.

Secretary Johnson, instead of being able to rush ahead, full steam, with plans to turn the new Air Force into the dominant military service, finds that he suddenly is on the defensive and forced to take time out to explain the background of aircraft contracts to a committee of Congress.

Dwight Eisenhower, wartime commander in Europe, finds that some important Republicans think he should have a political future in their party. He has caught the eye of important people with his observations on the dangers in an immense Washington bureaucracy.

Crippled B-36 superbomber flies Argentina excluding immigrants from behind Iron Curtain.

NEVER in the sequented annals of recorded time has man been face to face with so many powerful forces of destruction. It appears that with only the turning of a switch complete chaos might be the result. We live in the ATOMIC AGE; the age of profiteering; selfishness and greed. Why in the name of God will men use His creations to abolish civilization???

STATESMEN are mistified, scientists confused and people of every tongue are stumbling in darkness. GOD IS THE LIGHT! We must preach it or else we perish. The gospel of the GOLDEN RULE must exercise chief authority in the hearts of men. NOW is the FATEFUL HOUR... TODAY. This is the time when every individual is an important cog in the wheel of destiny. You must give an account of your stewardship. Be sure to attend your church regularly.

YOU IN THE CHURCH THE CHURCH IN YOU

Character is a by-product of the church. It is here that young and old alike are showered with benedictions that fortify and influence for a better citizenship and a stronger democracy. In the church the ministerial are molding religious character. Statesmen today declare that the church alone can furnish leadership to handle the affairs of state in these perilous times. Then we with our children should go to the church of our choice on Sunday. "You in the Church and the Church in you"—form a combination for good.

VET PENSIONS

The new veterans pension bill, now proposed by Rep. Rankin, whose original bill to pay $90 a month to all veterans at 65, regardless of need, was defeated by Congress, would pay $72 a month at the age of 65, but would limit benefits only to unemployed veterans earning less than $1,200 a year if unmarried, or $2,500 if they had dependents. It is estimated to cost the nation $125,000,000 during its life.

U. M. W. WELFARE FUND

The United Mine Workers Welfare Fund has announced that it has paid out $16,840,139 in benefits. So far this year, outgo has averaged $2,266,000 a week, probably exceeding weekly income by at least $500,000. A total of 344,168 persons have benefitted from the fund, including soft coal miners and members of their families. Benefits for anthracite miners are handled in a separate fund.

EMPLOYMENT

Non-farm employment leveled off to 43,900,000 in mid-April, arresting a three-months' drop, according to the Bureau of Labor Statistics. April layoffs in manufacturing rose to a post-war high of 28 per 1,000 employees on the payroll in March. Factory employment is now nearly 1,500,000 below the post-war record of last September and 700,000 under April, 1948.

ARMY HORSES

The Government has already sold 166 horses, including animals captured in Europe and brought to this country by the Army in 1946, and plans to sell another 118 registered thoroughbreds, with many mares having young foals at their sides, at Fort Robinson, Nebraska.

HOME REPAIR

The cost of repairing the nation's nonfarm homes during 1949 is estimated at between $2,500,000,000 and $3,100,000,000. About $3 for every $100 for home repairs will be spent for painting and redecorating, inside and out. Repair and replacement of heating equipment will take $25 and roofing about $15 out of each $100.

INCOMES DOWN

Confronted with shrinking income, the American people cut their spending so sharply in the first three months of this year that their total savings went up. The gross national product—total output of goods and services at market value—slacked off to a $255,000,000,000 a year rate in the first quarter, a drop of $9,000,000,000 from the same period of 1948. Savings increased, in the same period, $2,400,000,000.

RUSSIAN ORE EXPORTS

Russian shipments of vital manganese and chrome to this country in March dropped more than fifty per cent below February and were only one-third as large as in March, 1948. Shipments for the first quarter of 1949 are down 40 per cent compared with the same period last year. While cutting these metal shipments, Russia sharply boosted shipments of furs from February's $3,100,000 to $4,300,000 for March.

VIDEO SETS

The prediction is made that 6,000,000 television receivers will be in operation by 1951, 2,000,000 or more of which will be produced this year, augmenting the previous output of about 1,250,000.

FOOD COSTS DECLINE

The Agriculture Department predicts lower retail food prices for the summer months compared to last year's, but states that no sharp declines from last year's levels are expected.

GOT THE BREAKS

"It was a great night! I don't mind confessing I wound up in the police station."
"You were lucky, old man; I found my way home."

INHERITED

"You say Myrtle inherited her beauty?"

IN THE MUSEUM

Niece: Messalina, auntie.
Aunt: Well, I must say it's not my idea of the Italian premier.

DEFINITION

Chivalry is the attitude of man to a strange woman.

SO SAY THE OLD MEN

It is about as bad to be old and bent as it is to be young and broke.

ARE YOU PATIENT?

Patience is the quality a man thinks he has when he is too lazy to give a darn.

SHE IS

Navy Bill says: "Love may be blind, but the average mother-in-law is an eye-opener."

BUT, HOW!

Our politicians no longer duel as they do in other countries, but how they can fence.

ON THE ROAD

It is not an uncommon thing nowadays to see two roadsters neck and neck with the occupants of both of them doing the same thing.

IS THIS SO?

With the danger of tularemia from rabbits, psittacosis from parrots and hydrophobia from dogs, goldfish should come into their own as a safe household pet.

THAT'S WHERE THEY LIVE

How unfortunate that all the people who know how to solve race problems should live where there's only one race.

Rev. John R. Sharp Represents This Area at Assembly

The Rev. John Robert Sharp has just returned from Buffalo, N. Y., where he was commissioner to the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church, U. S. A., the national governing body of the church, which was held in Buffalo, May 17 to 25. Rev. Sharp will report to the Presbyterians of the Panhandle on this national meeting, during the summer months.

There were 860 commissioners, elected representatives of the Presbyteries of the nation, both ministers and laymen, who attended the 161st annual meeting of General Assembly. These commissioners represented more than two million members of the U. S. A. branch, 5th largest Protestant church in America. At the 1949 Assembly they elected Dr. Clifford E. Barbour of Knoxville, Tenn. as moderator, the church's highest honorary position. The Assembly also invited all Presbyterians to consider union, appointed a commission of the church's rules on divorce, and sent a plan for reorganization of church machinery to the Presbyteries for vote.

Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Bourland of Tulsa traveled with Rev. Sharp to Buffalo. Mr. Bourland, elder of the First Presbyterian Church, was the Amarillo Presbytery's elder delegate to General Assembly. The Amarillo Presbytery includes 22 Presbyterian churches, U. S. A., including Amarillo, Borger, Canyon, Childress, Dalhart, Hereford, Jumabo Community, Littlefield, Memphis, Pampa, Plainview, Slaton, Silvertown, White Deer, Dumas, Tulia, McLean, Lockney, Wellington, and Running Water with about 5,000 members in 1948. It supports the Children's Home in Amarillo and through Mrs. A. B. Haynes, Sr., of Canyon, as Sunday School Missionary, maintains mission Sunday Schools in the area and a Mexican center at Slaton.

Rev. Sharp was born in Jackson, Tennessee, and attended Bethel College and Cumberland University in Tennessee, receiving his B. C. in 1908. As a theological student he did mission work in Oklahoma, which was at that time Indian Territory. After serving pastorates at Bollbuckle, Tennessee, and Whitesboro, Texas, he came to the Panhandle of Texas in 1911 as pastor of the First Presbyterian Church at Tulsa. He was YMCA Secretary during and after World War I and became pastor in Hereford in 1919, going to Dalhart in 1924 where he served until ill health forced his retirement in 1931.

He has resided in Canyon for 18 years during which time he has conducted services and served most of the Presbyterian churches in the area as guest pastor when their pulpits were vacant.

He went into the Presbyterian Church U. S. A., as a result of the 1907 merger of the U. S. A. and Cumberland Presbyterian Churches.

Prior to the 1949 General Assembly, Rev. Sharp had been commissioner to the Assemblies in 1941 held in St. Louis, Mo., in 1930 in Cincinnati, Ohio, in 1923 in Grand Rapids, Mich., in 1917 at Dallas, Texas; and in 1920 at Atlantic City, N. J.

On the return trip Rev. Sharp visited with his son, Dr. John T. Sharp, who is completing his Assistant Residency in medicine at Presbyterian Hospital in New York City, and also with his sisters and brother in Jackson, Tenn.

New Highway Maps Are Available to Tourists in Texas

The 1949 Texas Highway Map comes off the presses today ready for free distribution by the Texas Highway Department. Showing 31,000 miles of completed Texas highways, over 30,000 miles paved, the map is illustrated with drawings and 30 full color pictures.

A panel is devoted this year to travel attractions in Mexico on the Pan-American Highway, with particular attention given to pre-historic ruins. This highway, which dissects Texas, north to south, now runs to Tuxtla, almost in Central America. Texas will be the gateway state in future travel on this international road.

Complete mileage tables of comparative distances between Texas cities and between state capitals outside of Texas to border points in Texas are given. Mileages from Laredo south to points on the Pan-American Highway are included. A United States road map, showing major national highways, is on the back of the Texas map.

Governor Beauford Jester's message to Texas travelers prefaces the edition.

Joint Chiefs of Staff for the armed services are under pressure on big issues to vote as the White House and Secretary of Defense desire. After a vote is taken by the Chiefs, who owe their jobs to the White House, then that vote can be pointed to as influencing the top civilian officials in their decision.

Stephen Early, Under Secretary of Defense and former Press Secretary to the late President Roosevelt, has the job of building up Defense Secretary Louis Johnson as a public figure. Mr. Johnson's friends believe that there are bigger jobs in Government than the present one that he might fill in the future.

Bernard M. Baruch, industrialist: "It is futile to talk of planning until we have determined how to achieve a decision in the peace-making."

Rheumatic Heart Is Hitting Children and Youth of State

The disabling and often fatal disease of children, rheumatic heart disease, is one of the leading causes of death among children and young adults in the age group 10 to 25 years.

Unfortunately, there has been developed for this disease no vaccine such as we have for smallpox, diphtheria and whooping cough, but by recognizing the early symptoms and obtaining a competent physician's diagnosis and treatment, some of the damaging results of rheumatic heart disease can be prevented or moderated.

The State Health Officer, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, says that "in general the early symptoms of rheumatic fever are pain and swelling in the joints of the knees, ankles, elbows or wrists. The pain is felt usually in one of these joints, and spreads frequently to the others. Often a doctor's examination of a child who becomes irritable and cross without apparent cause, cries easily, and develops nervous habits, will disclose the presence of rheumatic heart disease."

Predisposing causes to this serious illness include frequent chilling, living in damp, steamy quarters, poor diet, frequent colds, and sometimes scarlet fever or other infections caused by certain streptococcus germs. All such conditions should be avoided if at all possible.

Protection for children against rheumatic heart disease, should include a thorough physical examination by a physician at least once a year; a well balanced and nourishing diet; sufficient rest and sleep, and dressing at all times in accordance with the temperature of the room or playground. Consult a physician at once if any symptom suggests that this disease may be present or in the process of developing.

Frances P. Matthews, new Secretary of the Navy, is reported not to be altering views about world affairs that are described as strongly isolationist. Secretary Matthews, however, will not seek to limit operations of the Navy he heads to waters of the Western Hemisphere.

Joseph L. Snider, economist: "It does not appear likely that we shall have one of our severe depressions."

Dr. Carleton Simon, criminologist: "Every 30 minutes some one in the United States commits suicide."

just won a stunning victory at the polls would have his legislative program knocked on the head in most particulars by Congress. But that seems to be what has happened.

Looking into the crystal ball, here is the status of his program at present.

Taft-Hartly Act. Mr. Truman wants complete repeal. It would require a miracle to achieve it. It is doubtful if anything save technical changes in the law will be voted. It may not be changed at all.

$4,000,000,000 Tax Increase. Whenever this comes up, a glacial atmosphere descends on Congress. Everything will be done to avoid any tax increase. If, of dire necessity, a tax bill is passed, it will be very different from Mr. Truman's desire.

Expanded Social Security. This is in the doldrums. The section with the best chance of approval would give increased benefits to the aged. Opposition to the Administration's medical proposals is very strong. The more moderate measure, proposed by Senator Taft and others, has many more adherents.

Columbia Valley Authority. This is a key step in the Administration's plan for the greatly expanding government power development and solidifying Federal authority over water and other natural resources of the nation. Cost would be some $2,000,000,000. Has small chance this session, will be pushed hard again.

Standby Authority for Price Controls, Allocations, etc. Absolutely dead.

New Farm Subsidy Plan. This is a scheme, suggested by Secretary Brannan, whereby food prices to consumers would be held down by giving direct Federal subsidies to farmers. The Congressional reception has been chilly.

Why should the President's program have encountered such heavy going? There are various reasons. First, many Congressional Democrats, especially in the Senate, are conservatively inclined to have little use for what is being called the "Tru-Deal"—they fear it would result in state socialism. Second, the President has antagonized some of the more influential lawmakers by what they regard as a demanding, dictatorial attitude. Third, the decline in business, even though it has been moderate, has developed an attitude of watchful waiting, and Congress doesn't want to depress things further if it can help it.

Next session may tell a different story—the President is organizing for battle. But he's making small headway this time.

Dr. Ralph C. Linton, Yale anthropologist: "The President is extremely tough. It will survive even if the species has two heads after the bomb is used."

Sir Norman Angell, British author: "The greatest service we can do the common man today is to abolish him and make all men uncommon."

Dry Holes Cost Oil Men Huge Fortunes Cash

The Wyoming Eagle, of Cheyenne, tells an interesting little story of how industrial progress is made in this country—and of the risks that attend it.

In July, 1947, an oil well was started in that state. At present, the hole is down nearly four miles, and it has cost more than $1,000,000. No oil has been located. Furthermore, even if the drillers do strike oil, they don't know if it will rise far enough in the casing to be captured, or if a pump can be manufactured to raise it.

Consequently, one of two things will eventually happen. Recoverable oil will be reached and in time those who took the risk will get their money back and earn a profit. Or, instead, the project will be abandoned, and its backers will have the deepest man-made hole on earth, at a cost of a large fortune which can never be retrieved.

As the Eagle says, "All in all it seems pretty much of a gamble—but men are like that. There's nothing so intriguing as the unknown, and the endless quest for knowledge and adventure causes hardy souls to risk their lives and fortunes." That statement pretty much sums up the whole history of the oil industry. Untold sums of money have gone into the ground and have produced nothing.

But, regardless of failures, more wells are drilled because people want oil, and men are willing to take risks to try to fill that need and make a profit.

This is what the economists speak of as incentive. It exists in its true state solely under free enterprise. Only the hope of reward for success can make men take the chance of failure.

Canyon Women on Dallas Program

Three Canyon women, Miss Laverne Herring, Director of Primary Education at First Baptist Church; Mrs. A. B. Holt, Director of Training Union, and Mrs. Cristler Crain, worker in the Nursery Department of Training Union, will appear on the program at a state-wide meeting of Training Union workers with little children at Dallas, Tuesday, June 7th. Appearing also will be

Dr. Roy L. Johnson, pastor of First Baptist Church in Canyon.

These three women are co-authors of the quarterly program booklets used by the Nursery, Beginner and Primary Departments of Training Unions in Baptist Churches of Texas and the Southwest for July, August and September. The booklets are now on sale at Baptist Book Stores, and the covers feature pictures of Canyon children in their Sunday evening activities at the Baptist church.

Writers for these quarterlies are selected from churches where outstanding work is being done for small children, and recent visits to Canyon by Texas Baptist workers revealed the quality of work being offered the children who attend the Baptist church in Canyon, and these workers are requested to write the program material. It is a signal honor for Canyon and the local Baptist workers.

Mrs. Florence Stephenson spent the weekend visiting with relatives in Hereford.

Agencies Fight For Control of Public Spending

Anyone who is interested in the way agencies of the Federal government are wasting the taxpayers' money should read an article in the Saturday Evening Post of May 14, called "The Battle That Squanders Billions," by Leslie A. Miller, former Governor of Wyoming and Chairman of the Natural Resources Committee of the Hoover Commission.

The "battle" Mr. Miller refers to is between the Army Engineers and the Reclamation Bureau. Here is a small part of what he has to say: "The two agencies are so violently jealous of each other that an extravagant and wholly senseless competition has sprung up... In their indecent zeal to extend their empires, both agencies are guilty of underestimating—apparently deliberately—the cost of the projects they propose to build."

"Both agencies stoop to deception... The Engineers will use navigation and flood control as a guise for a hydroelectric project; the Reclamationists use irrigation as their alibi for hydroelectric development."

It is my impression that the United States still is not a socialistic country and that the production and sale of electricity remains a matter for private enterprise."

Mr. Miller estimates government owned water resources development projects now in construction and planning stages would cost more than $52,000,000,000—and that does not include close to $5,000,000,000 which has already been spent on completed projects!

Here is a startling example of what can happen when government agencies start to compete with each other for power, prestige and money—and when the socialists see an opportunity to advance their ideology under camouflage. The device of using such attractive words as "reclamation" and "flood control" to cover projects whose big purpose is the socialization of the electric industry is an old one, of which TVA is the most conspicuous illustration. This cannibalistic practice of government in devouring its own tax-paying industries has caused the waste of billions in the past. It will cause the waste of tens of billions in the future unless it is checked, not to mention the fact that it will destroy a free nation as we have known it.

Mr. Miller has performed a public service of magnitude. To quote him once more, "If we can strike a blow for sanity in spending, before our national water bill drowns our economy, the work of our Hoover Commission task force will have been worth while."

Newspaper Carries More Appeal Than Radio Advertising

The newspaper with its printed word, in the view of Joseph W. Fraser, Vice-Chairman of the Kaiser-Fraser Corporation, is still the backbone, not only of automobile advertising, but of all products.

While nearly every newspaper man will agree with the conclusions voiced by Mr. Fraser, there is no harm, from the journalistic viewpoint, in passing his words along.

"The printed word has more authenticity than the spoken word of radio," declares Mr. Fraser, who, in a brief sentence, gives the explanation for the continual growth of newspaper circulation despite radio competition.

The reader of the printed word, whether it appears in newspapers, magazines, pamphlets or books, understands very readily that when one puts words in print, there is no saying, "I didn't say it."

Consequently, those who write for the record are more apt to be careful and exact in their statements. This, of itself is worth something to the discriminating reader.

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Brunson of Crosbyton, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Hopper of Brownwood, Johnnie Ray Watkins of Chandler, Arizona, and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Stubblefield of Hale Center were week end guests in the John H. Parker home.

Tommie Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Eugene Thompson, sons and daughter-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Thompson, are home from having spent the winter attending the University of Texas at Austin.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Anthony of Ft. Worth left for their home Monday after having spent a week in the home of Mr. and Mrs. N. E. McIntire. Mrs. Anthony and Mrs. McIntire are sisters.

Reid-Hawkins Double Ring Service Read in First Presbyterian Church

MRS. CHARLES WALLACE HAWKINS

In an impressive double ring service Miss Virginia Lee Reid, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. (Ted) Reid, became the bride of Charles Wallace Hawkins, son of Wallace Hawkins of Dallas, Monday afternoon at two o'clock in the First Presbyterian Church.

Rev. J. R. Sharp read the rites at the altar which was decorated with tall baskets of ferns on the choir rail with baskets of fern marking the ends of the rail formed the setting for the short-stand branched candelabra sitting on the fern topped rail and holding tall white tapers. Baskets of wide leafed ferns flanked the console of the organ to complete the decorations.

As pre-nuptial music, Mrs. J. D. Barker at the organ played "Romance" by Preston as a prelude. She accompanied Mrs. R. H. Fulton, Jr., who sang "Ave Maria" by Bach-Gounod and "I Love Thee" by Greig. "At Dawning" by Cadman was played while Miss Mike Reid, cousin of the bride, gowned in pale blue taffeta with Estered head-dress, and James Cundiff lighted the candles. The traditional wedding marches were played for the processional and recessional. "The Lord's Prayer" by Malotte made a soft musical background for the service.

Attending her sister as matron of honor, Mrs. G. W. Lee, Jr., of Silverton, was attired in a plum taffeta gown with fitted bodice, off-the-shoulder neckline and full ballerina length skirt. Her elbow length taffeta mitts and satin grecian sandals matched her gown in color as did her headband of Estered daisies. Her bouquet was a cascade of white rose buds.

The bridesmaids, Miss Virginia Hunter, in green taffeta; Miss Wanda Davis of Tulsa, in blue taffeta; and Miss Letta McNutt of Plainview in orchid taffeta wore gowns, mitts, headbands and sandals styled identical to the matron's costume. Their bouquets were identical large cascades of tallman roses.

Hank Finger of Alvin, Texas was best man. Ushers and groomsmen were Tommie Welch of Artesia, New Mexico, Raymond Walston of Menard, Texas, and Charles Bayles of Pampa.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was a picture in her white bridal satin gown, designed with an illusion yoke joined to the molded bodice by a wide band of raised satin and seed pearl embroidery, long sleeves tapering to a point and full gracefully fitted skirt which gathered into a bustle effect and terminated in a full train. Her fingertip length veil of illusion cascaded from a seed pearl sown coronet. Her bouquet was a cascade of Barvardia, topped with two beautiful white orchids and showered with white satin streamers tied with Barvardia.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Reid chose a self embroidered blue linen frock, with bluish pink picture hat and black accessories. Her corsage was red rose buds.

Following the ceremony guests were entertained at a reception honoring the bride party in the home of the bride's parents. Laid with a lace cloth the serving table was centered with an arrangement of white Estered daisies and white rose buds. Centering the background for the table which was set before an unusually attractive built in china shelving was a gorgeous bouquet of sweetheart roses. The matron's and bridesmaids' bouquets lying in other sections gave an outdoor garden scene picture. The tiered wedding cake was served with frosted punch, nuts and mints.

Mrs. Hawkins was graduated from West Texas High School and is a last semester senior at West Texas State where she is a member of Pi Omega Sorority. Mr. Hawkins was graduated from high school in Dallas, attended New Mexico Military Institute, served in the Merchant Marines and is a senior student at Sul Ross State College at Alpine.

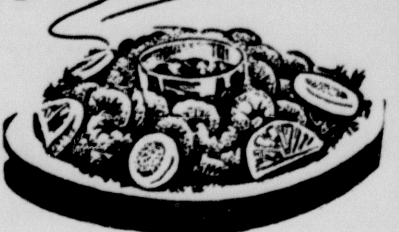

For her wedding trip to points in Colorado, Mrs. Hawkins wore a beige palm beach suit with copper accessories, and an orchid corsage.

Out of town guests included Wallace Hawkins, Mike Hawkins, and Mrs. Edward C. Andrews, father, brother and sister of the bridegroom, all of Dallas; Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Troutman, Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Hager, Mr. and Mrs. G. K. Kenman, Dianne and Denny Jack, Dr. and Mrs. R. G. Fowler, all of Dumas; Mrs. C. M. Bales of Pampa, Mr. and Mrs. Sid Reid of Hollis, Oklahoma; Bob Reid, Mrs. W. W. Tucker, Mrs. Melba Turner and son, Greg, all of San Angelo; Mr. and Mrs. Warner Reid and daughters, Mike and Sue, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Reid, Jr., Jim and Dick, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Lee, Jr., and Marca Lynn, all of Silverton; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Daniels and Colly, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Fowler of Lockney; Mrs. George Lee and daughter Glenna of Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. Wade Reid of Ft. Davis.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Funston have returned from a visit in Reydon, Oklahoma.

H. A. Mahle of Lubbock is visiting with his cousin, Carl Eugene Hair.

Doctors Harassed Under Socialized Plan of England

The Christian Science Monitor recently published a dispatch from London, written by one of its staff correspondents, dealing with developments under Britain's experiment with the state health service. It says, "The doctors, generally speaking, are overworked and harassed. . . . Many doctors in more populous areas have 4,000 patients each. . . . A harassed form-filling doctor snapped: 'The best medical invention of the last century has been the ball-point pen'."

A New York Times dispatch from London, of about the same date, dwelt with demands for going still farther with socializing the practice of medicine in England. One group, it said, has called upon the Minister of Health, "to introduce the principle of full-time salaried service for all doctors working in the national health program, instead of the present system of fees." It also endorsed recommendations for the abolition of private beds in hospitals and nationalization of the drug industry.

Here are two examples of how these socialistic schemes work. First, there is always a decline in the standards of medical care—a doctor with 4,000 patients can hardly do full justice to each one. Second, the socialists always want to go whole hog and make everyone involved a civil servant, completely subject to political orders and policies.

Those who are urging compulsory government health insurance in this country say these dangers will be avoided here. No one who has any knowledge of history can believe that to be true. Bureaucracies, by their very nature, reach out for more and more power. And individual ambition and incentive are lost in the process.

Across From High School

Dr. H. Paul Douglas, Federal Council of Churches: "Protestant membership in relation to the population has never been so great as it is today."

J. Howard McGrath, U. S. Senator from Rhode Island: "The way to get rid of rent control is to lick the housing shortage which makes controls necessary."

Speaking the other week, of old schoolmates whom I met while visiting in Memphis, Tenn., there was Sims Edmonson, a successful attorney. When he was attending Central High, Sims would begin to recite and then, in the middle of a word, he would start stammering and, despite the most strenuous effort, he was unable to finish. The teacher would say, kindly, "You may sit down, Sims."

Personally, I had always had my doubts, so on this visit I cross-examined the middle-aged attorney. "Wasn't that just an act to conceal the fact that you didn't know the lesson?" Sims grinned and said, "Yes."

It had taken more than 30 years but at last the truth came out.

Also this columnist had a chat with an old-time newspaperman in Memphis who back, about the time of World War I, started a penny daily—yes, there was a time when a daily paper could be bought for one cent.

He had quite a struggle but kept the paper afloat for a good while. It was office gossip (I was editor for a time) that when there was a payroll to meet and not enough money on hand, the publisher would go out and sell more stock. There were stockholders of all creeds, races and political views and, again according to office gossip, there never was a stockholders' meeting—the publisher didn't dare call one for fear the stockholders would kill each other off!

Like the Irishman who went up to the priest after a sermon about the Final Judgment and asked, "Did I understand you to say that everybody who has ever lived will be there?"

"Yes," was the reply.

Pat persisted, "The Republicans and the Democrats? The Rebels and the Yankees? The Irish and the A. P. A?"

Again the answer was "Yes."

"Then," said Pat, "Father, there'll be dommed little judgin' that first day."

SHOULD OMIT POSTAGE

"Yes," said the lordly young man, "I write poetry."

The girl was impressed.

"How truly devastating!" she exclaimed. "Does your poetry yield any returns?"

"Yes," said the young man, sighing heavily. "It practically all returns."

RUNNING SHORT

Dentist's Daughter: Well, dear, have you asked father for my hand yet?

Shy Suitor: No. Everytime I step into his office, I lose courage. Today I allowed him to pull another tooth.

SLIDING SCALE

Hairdresser: A permanent wave would be five guineas, madam, of course, you could have a temporary one for a guinea.

Flapper: I say, couldn't you give me just a momentary one for about five shillings?

A GIVE-AWAY

Pretty Caller: Can I see the manager?

Fresh Clerk: Yes, the manager always has time to see pretty girls.

Caller: Tell him his wife is here.

Charles Brannan, Secretary of Agriculture, isn't discouraged even though his new farm plan is attracting little support. The Brannan plan to permit prices to fall and then to assure farm incomes with checks from the Treasury could become popular in an election year.

British Socialists are watching closely the June elections to be held in Canada, fearing that a Conservative victory there would provide a further jolt to Labor Party morale in Britain.

Improvement in Public Schools of Texas Seen in the Enactment of the Gilmer-Aiken Laws Say Sponsors

Texas will soon be among the top ten states in education.

Enactment of the three Gilmer-Aiken bills into law provides the vehicle by which the state will climb from its low rank, it was declared in Austin by Charles H. Tennyson, public relations director of the Texas State Teachers Association. The organization led the lengthy legislative battle for re-organization of the public school system.

"These measures pave the way for more classrooms and more and better teachers, as well as providing for more equitable distribution of the cost and revising the top-level administration," Tennyson declared. "Our children will receive a better education. As a result, our state will benefit."

Tennyson pointed out that schools which fail to meet the minimum requirements of teachers' and administrators' salaries will not only fail to receive state aid provided in the new laws other than the per capita apportionment, but will be dropped from the accredited list.

There are now 42,500 teachers and 4,000 principals and superintendents in the public school system.

"The new laws pave the way for the addition of 1,500 teachers as soon as physical facilities can be made available."

"This will relieve much of the classroom congestion which has made for sub-standard education in many of our schools."

The new salary scale for teachers and administrators will do two things to provide Texas with a superior educational system, Tennyson also pointed out.

"Texas will be much more attractive to outstanding teachers from all parts of the country," he said. "Too, the additional pay teachers can get for holding masters degrees will send thousands of them to school to get the higher degree. The greatest enrollment in many years is expected by most Texas colleges and universities this summer in their graduate divisions."

The minimum salary for teachers holding bachelors degrees was increased from $2,000 to $2,400 annually. Under the new bills, they will get $54 a year additional for the first twelve years of teaching. That makes a maximum salary of $3,051. The old ceiling was $2,655.

Teachers holding masters degrees will have a minimum salary of $2,628. The minimum was $2,232.
